Thank you for contributing to the integrationists' repository!

Please use international standards for referencing. For published articles and unpublished theses please refer to the below.

Articles:
When submitting reference to a published article please take a minute to categorize the article according to the following guidelines:

1. Please state a category according to what your article does:
A: my article contributes original integrationist linguistic theory
B: my article relates integrationism to other theory
C: my article reports applied integrationist research or deals with the topic of applied integrationism
D: my publication delivers a critique of integrationist linguistics
E: my publication is on the subject of teaching integrationist linguistics
F: my publication is an introduction to or educational presentation of integrationist linguistics

2. For category A, B or C, please add a subject: e.g.: "A - the politics of language", "B - pragmatism, or "C - the empirical challenge of applying integrationism"

Unpublished theses:
Please use the below format to reference unpublished MA, PHD, and Mphil theses:

Author name (last, first) / university / year the thesis was or will be finished / title / supervising professors and their universities.

If you like, please add a short note explaining how your thesis involves integrationism.
